4 次の英文は、中学生の Miyuki がクラスで行ったスピーチです。これを読んで、後の(1)～(3)の問いに答えなさい。

Today, we have e-mail, fast food and cars. Our lives have become very *convenient. But at the same time we are losing something important. I think we should sometimes think about it.

Many people send e-mails *instead of letters. They think sending e-mails is easy and fast. But I think sending letters is sometimes important. Three years ago, I stayed at a family in America for two weeks. Now I get a Christmas card from my *host mother every year. When I read her *handwriting on her Christmas cards, I remember her face and my happy days in America.

Do you like fast food? ① When you buy fast food, [ to don't cook have you ]. But it's fun to cook. Last Sunday was my father's birthday, so I cooked dinner for him. I was very happy when my father said the dinner was great. I am going to cook for my mother's birthday next month. It's a lot of fun to cook for someone.

When you *take a trip, how do you *get around? If you go by car, you can visit many places. ② But if you walk around, you [ people talk who can with ] live there. You can also learn more about the place you visit.

Now let's think together. Which do you like better, living in a small town or living in a big city?

(注) convenient 便利な

instead of ~ ~の代わりに

host mother ホームステイ先の母親

handwriting 手書きの文字

take a trip 旅行する

get around 見てまわる
